

I am troubled by the prospective changes authorized by the Federal Communications Commission to the American news media, as are many of my friends and family. Allowing one corporation to own all media outlets poses a serious threat to our democracy. It also undermines media efforts to provide balanced information by effectively eliminating competition. Being limited to just one source of information, to just one perspective, puts the American people at a disadvantage by making them ignorant and uninformed—we will no longer have access to the same information as the rest of the world. Please do not allow monopoly power in the media.
